Roger Chillingloaf

Ingredients:

Plain Dough
10 cups Solitude
5 cups Education
4 cups Bitter Hatred
3 cups Determination
2 cups Indian Knowledge
1 cup False Credibility
1 tablespoon Manipulation
1 drop Pure Evil
pinch of Insanity

Directions:

Start with plain dough, add Solitude and Education and knead until the dough becomes dull and lifeless. Place the dough, without shaping it, in the oven and forget about it for a few years. The dough will have acquired Indian Knowledge while it was forgotten. The cooked dough will randomly pop out of the oven at the worst possible time. Add Bitter Hatred, Resentment, and Determination and place the dough back in the oven. The dough will begin to burn and the Indian Knowledge will turn into False Credibility. While the dough is burning, add the remaining ingredients of Pure Evil and Manipulation. Attempt to take it out but fail because the temperature is too hot. The heat will deform the bread even more. Sprinkle Insanity to top it off.

When the cooking is finished, you should be left with a charred, evil-looking, black lump with an unholy scent wafting from it.

Preparation time: About 10 years

Serves: One person: Arthur Dimmesdale. False Credibility will trick him into having a piece. The Pure Evil and Manipulation will then kill him from the inside out.

Arthur Dimmesdale's Punishment Pot Pie

Ingredients:

2 cups Hypocrisy
2 tablespoons Lies
1 quart Man of Cloth
1 cup Charisma
1 pint Remorse
1 piece Whip
1 tablespoon Deceived
3 teaspoons Love
2 drops Indecisive
1 tablespoon Strength
sprinkle Confession

Directions:

Start with Man of Cloth in a bowl. Slowly grind Hypocrisy, Lies, and Charisma. Knead ingredients together until a strong sermon develops. Split 2/3 of the dough and flatten on the bottom and edges of a Puritan pie tin.

For filling, mix Remorse with a Whip together. A scarlet color will develop. Add Deceived and it should turn from painful scarlet to a sickly green. Mix in Love to create a pinkish color. Mix in Indecisive. Pour filling inside crust. Take 1/3 dough placing on top to cover filling. Put in oven until a smell of hope develops. Add Strength and Confession after done baking. Serve while hot before it goes stale.

Arthur Dimmesdale's Famous Tamales

Ingredients

- 2 cups Sin
- 1 cups Guilt
- 1 cups Fear
- 1/2 cup Embarrassment
- 1 tablespoon Weakness
- 1 tablespoon Pride
- 1 teaspoon Devotion
- 1 cup Rhetoric
- A pinch Artificial Humility
- 1 Husk of a Man

Directions:

Start with sin and add guilt, fear, and embarrassment. Mix in whatever way necessary while adding bits of weakness. Mixing may require different methods use all but gentle ones, feel free to scourge, cut, and stab throughout the process. Once finished, set aside this your filling.

For the masa, knead pride and devotion and pour rhetoric to soften. Sprinkle with artificial humility for taste. Next spread masa inside the husk of a man and add filling in the center and cover with more masa. When done, be sure to carve a letter "A". Do not worry if the "A" is not neat or if it begins to bleed, it will be hidden by the husk. Loosely wrap ~~the~~ husk over filling and steam for 7 years.

Preparation time: 7 years

Serves: 1

WARNING: Because the tamale is loosely wrapped, leeches have been known to eat away at the filling leaving the husk empty after the 7 years. Luckily the leech usually dies soon afterwards of starvation.

Pearl's Puzzling Pound Cake

Ingredients:

1 ½ cups of Compassion
3 bunches of Red Defiance
Dash of Supernatural Thoughts
1 cup of Natural Wildness
2 tablespoons of Sensitivity
1 handful of Burdening Actions
Pinch of Puritan Powder
3 cups of Temperamental Cream
Hint of Bittersweet Darkness
¾ cups of Questioning Curiosity
½ cup of unnatural beauty

Directions:

Combine Unnatural Beauty and Natural Wildness together in one container. Then mix 1 tablespoon of sensitivity and Puritan Powder in another. The mixture should be light and creamy. Slowly stir the handful of Burdening Actions little by little into the container with Beauty and Wilderness. Add the mixture of Puritan powder and sensitivity together. Fold in Red Defiance, and then beat in the Temperamental Cream.

The mixture should now be extremely stiff. Add half a cup of compassion to thin it out. Sprinkle in Supernatural Thoughts and mix thoroughly. Toss Bittersweet Darkness over the top of the mixture. Defiance should now be less visible. Grate in Questioning Curiosity. The color of the blend should now be lighter than it originally was. Add the last bit of sensitivity and compassion. Place in the oven and bake until the edges are black, and the center is still gooey. Take it out of the oven and form it into the shape of an A. Place the product on a baking sheet and put it back in the oven until firm.

Preparation Time: Seven years

Serves: Chillingworth's want for revenge, the relationship between Hester and Dimmesdale, and the judgment and criticism of them.

Hester Prynne's Red Velvet Cake

Ingredients:

4 cups inner strength
1 liter Puritanical Society
1 quart Compassion
3 tablespoons Advice
1 tablespoon Sin (Adultery Mix)
1 teaspoon Flavor Pearls
5 drop Red food coloring (preferably scarlet)
2 Sewing Needles
1 Golden Thread
A dash of Freedom

Directions:

Prepare a worn, wooden scaffold at room temperature. Mix Sin, Red food coloring, and Sewing Needles in a bowl until mix is bright red. Mix should be perfect, having no chunks, bubbles, or clumps. Drop Flavor Pearls in mixture. Pearls should turn as red as the mixture. Leave mixture on scaffold for three days. Add Puritanical Society, golden thread and inner strength to mixture and knead. Leave covered for seven years.

After waiting period, Pearls should grow and batter should become a faint gray color. Press batter to squeeze out the remaining Puritanical Society and add Freedom. Place in the Forest until returns to its bright red color with no imperfections. Spread Compassion and Advice on top and sides.

Prep Time: 7-8 years

Serves: The poor and sick of Boston.
