Free-response questions

1. During the twentieth century, the Supreme Court ruled repeatedly on the protections embodied in the First Amendment.

- Freedom of Speech
- Separation of Church and State

For each above:

- a. identify a related Supreme Court case AND explain the reasoning behind the Court's decision.
- b. Identify and describe a related issue in contemporary politics that centers on differing interpretations of the First Amendment

2. For much of the history of the Supreme Court, justices have been identified with the ideologies called "loose construction" and "strict construction." These ideologies continue to play a major role in the determination of judicial decisions.

- a. define the terms "strict" and "loose construction"
- b. Select one of the following Supreme Court cases. Explain both the questions under consideration by the Court in the case and the reasoning behind the Court's decision:

- U.S. v. Lopez (1995)
- D.C. v. Heller (2003)
- Citizens United v. Federal Elections Commission (2010)

Be sure to make reference to loose or strict construction in your answer.

3. For much of American history the Supreme Court refused to apply the provisions in the Bill of Rights to the states. Today, almost all of its provisions apply both to the federal and state governments.

- a. explain the constitutional rationale for the "incorporation" of the Bill of Rights to the states.
- b. describe the process through which the Bill of Rights were incorporated to the states and local governments.
- c. identify two civil liberties and the cases through which they were incorporated.

4. The rights enumerated by the Bill of Rights were not always protected from state action. For many years, the Supreme Court believed the phrase "Congress shall make no law..." imposed limits on the federal government only.

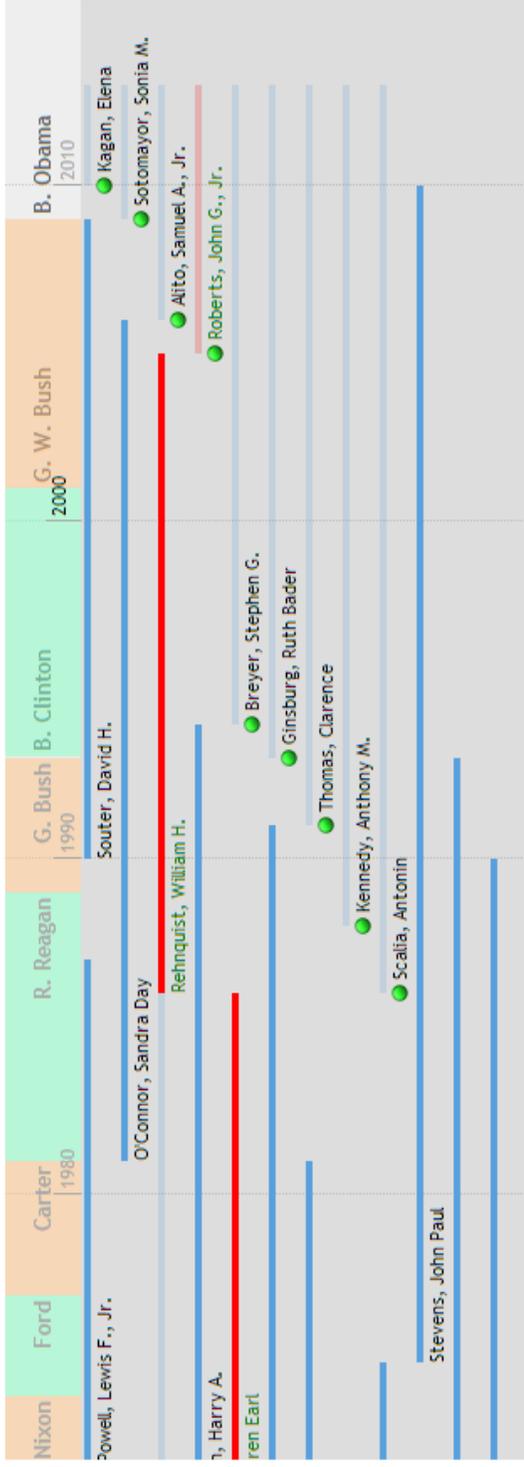

- a. explain the method by which many of the Bill of Rights protections are used to limit state and local governments.
- b. Choose two of the following issues. For each, describe a case that helped define the Supreme Court's stance on the issue.

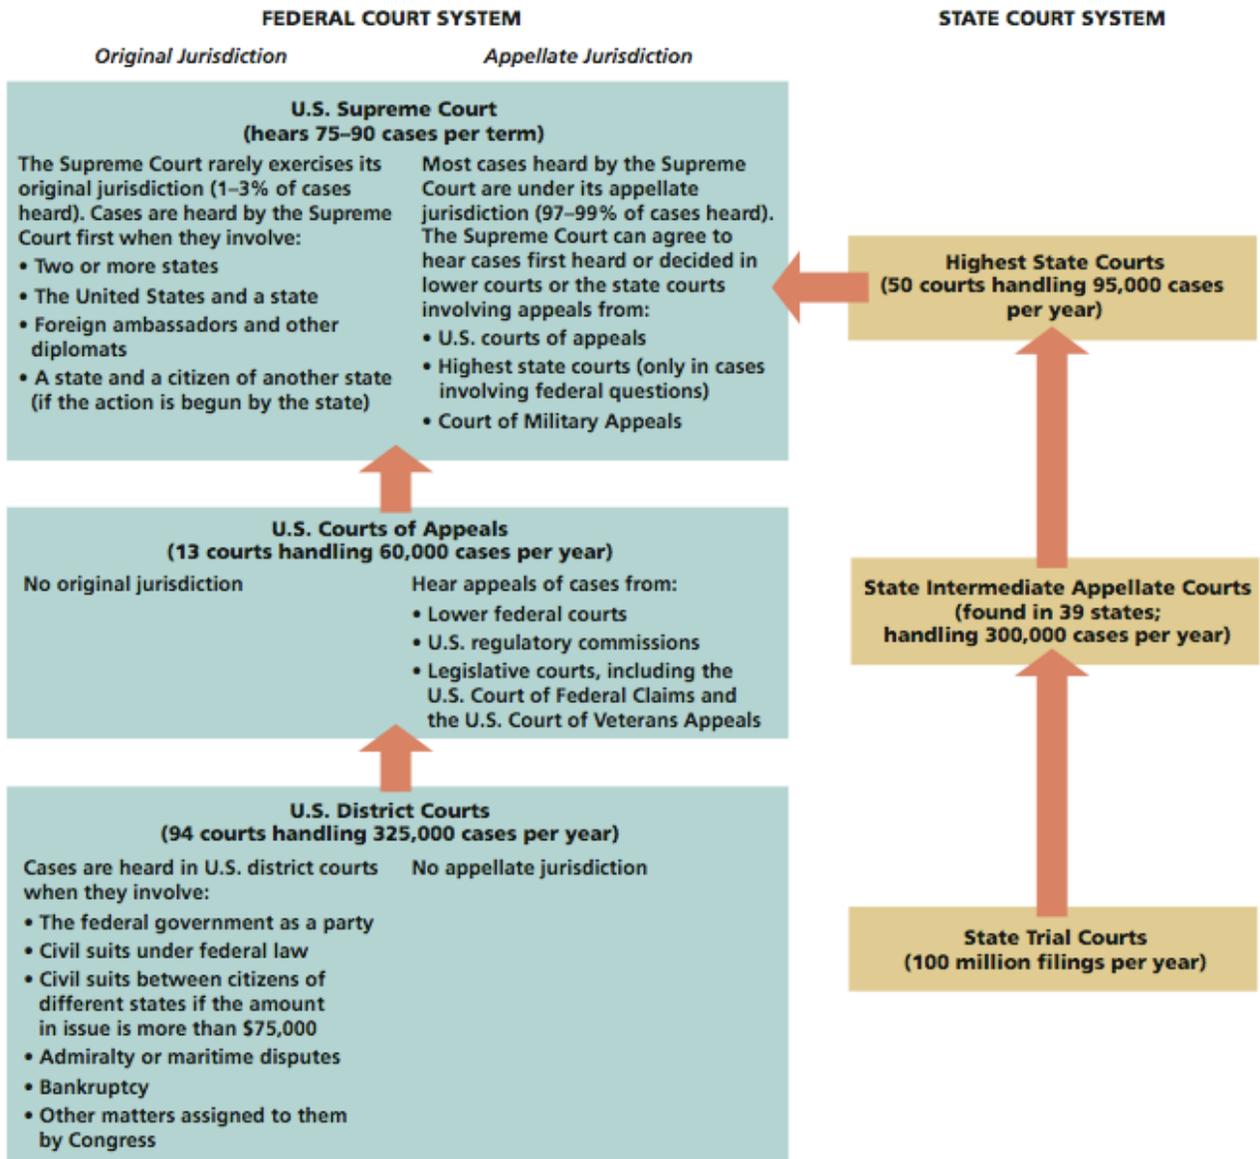

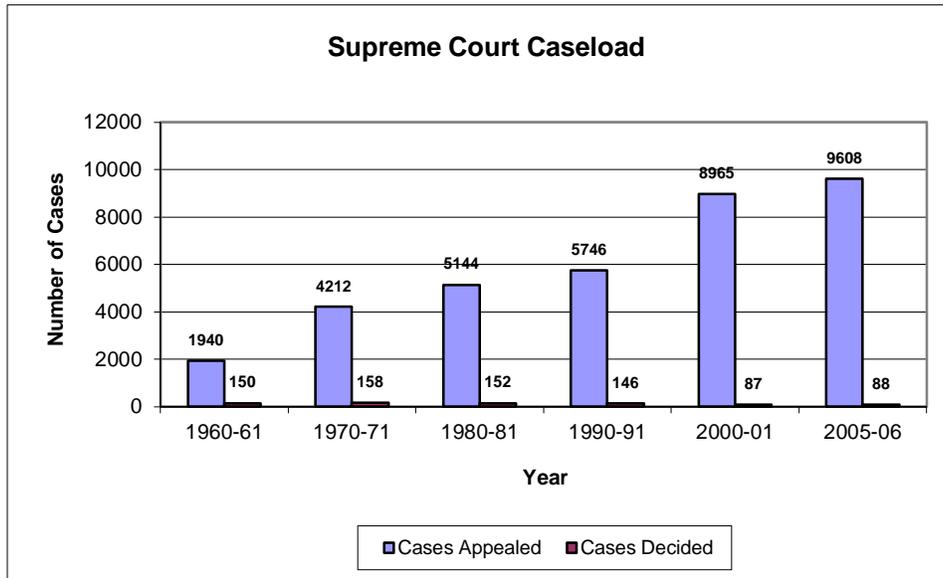

- school prayer
- threatening speech
- symbolic expression
- prior restraint
- libel
